CELEBRATING GOODWILL'S IMPACT

By David Oliver

I always get excited when the calendar turns to May because that is the month of our Annual Awards Luncheon. Next week—on Tuesday, May 9—we will celebrate four award winners: Financial Resilience Award, Achiever of the Year, Graduate of the Year, and Employee of the Year. I am looking forward to seeing many of you on Tuesday. Please note that we are in a new place for this year's luncheon: the Cox Business Convention Center (100 Civic Center Tulsa, OK 74103).

The luncheon is a time to celebrate the impact of Goodwill on the individuals we serve and on employees. We recently asked all employees to tell us what Goodwill means to them, and I was very happy to see such positive responses. Here are a few of them:

- It's not just a place I come to work; it's like being around family all day.
- Goodwill changed my life.
- They showed me it's okay to take a chance.
- Goodwill let me know that I am somebody.
- No matter who you are, they will give you a chance to better yourself.
- Goodwill has always been there for me when I needed them.
- I've found this place [Goodwill] where giving conquers strife.
- Goodwill represents a future for everyone.
- Without Goodwill, I wouldn't have met the friends that I have gained from working here.
- Goodwill believed in me, providing an opportunity to grow and become my best self.
- Opportunity and knowledge . . . success and hope.
- Thanks for believing in me.

To help us continue to try to find ways to make your time at Goodwill meaningful to you, we will release an employee engagement survey later in May. Please take the time to respond to the survey and let us know what you think. Miranda Freeman, our new Engagement Specialist, is working diligently to update Goodwill's activities and ways we recognize employees. The more she knows what employees think, the better informed those plans and activities can be.

See you Tuesday at the luncheon!
